PLAY SYNOPSIS:

Set in 1957, just before the start of the Civil Rights Movement, FENCES takes place during a time when organized baseball is finally integrated, but racial discrimination remains widespread.

FENCES' protagonist, Pittsburgh sanitation worker Troy Maxson, once dreamed of a baseball career but was too old when the major leagues began admitting Black athletes.

Once a slugger in the Negro League, Troy is consumed with bitterness. Facing his own disappointments and racial barriers at work, Troy also grapples with his son's hope for a college football scholarship and is confronted by his wife about his infidelity.

Celebrate Negro League Pride with us! We invite you to proudly display your Negro League paraphernalia and join us for a memorable photo session alongside CAPAC members. Let's come together to capture these moments of unity and pride. Your photographs will be featured on our social media platforms, spreading the message of heritage and solidarity. Let's pay homage to the legends of the past and inspire future generations. See you there!
